APOLOGY AND CORRECTION

GPOs and the Health Care Supply Chain: Market-Based Solutions and Real-World Recommendations to Reduce Pricing Secrecy and Benefit Health Care Providers

The article entitled, GPOs and the Health Care Supply Chain: Market-Based Solutions and Real-World Recommendations to Reduce Pricing Secrecy and Benefit Health Care Providers, authored by Carl A. Johnston, Ph.D. and Curtis D. Rooney, Esq., which appeared in the Fall 2012 issue of the JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY HEALTH LAW AND POLICY [29 J. CONTEMP. HEALTH L. & POL'Y 72], had an erroneously mis-numbered footnote. This footnote appears on page 82 of the Fall 2012 issue. While the text has correctly numbered footnote 37, the footnote number appears on the bottom of the page as number 39, instead of number 37. This footnote states states "Interestingly, the CAF also serves an economic function. As discussed in recent literature, transaction taxes tend to reduce price volatility in a market by restraining speculation. In the GPO market, the extra cost of the transaction fee may prevent hospitals from attempting to "arbitrage" their discounts by, for example, re-selling products bought under their GPO umbrella agreements to "free-riders" outside of the GPO system." We sincerely hope that authors Carl A. Johnston and Curtis D. Rooney will accept our apology for and correction of the error.
